The Integrated Consciousness

for hyper-hurdy-gurdy, live electronics,
and chamber ensemble

© Luca Turchet 2015

- Part I, “Body”: No key
- Part II, “Mind”: A minor
- Part III, “Spirit”: D minor
- Part IV, “Soul”: C major

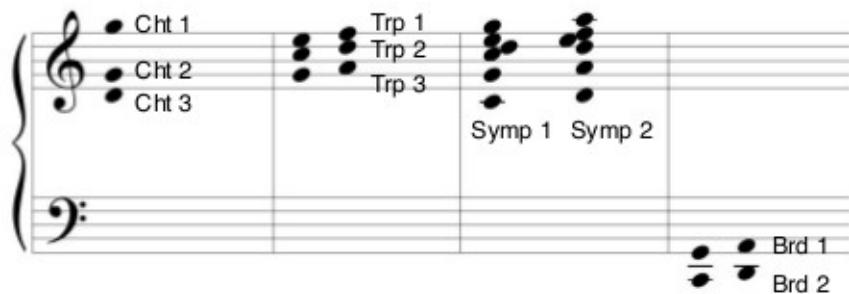

Instrumentation

Hyper-Hurdy Gurdy

The instrument consists of the conventional acoustic hurdy gurdy and of embedded technology (microphones, sensors and a microcontroller board for the analog-to-digital conversion of the sensors' data, eventually gifted of a system for low latency-wireless transmission to a computer running the live electronics).

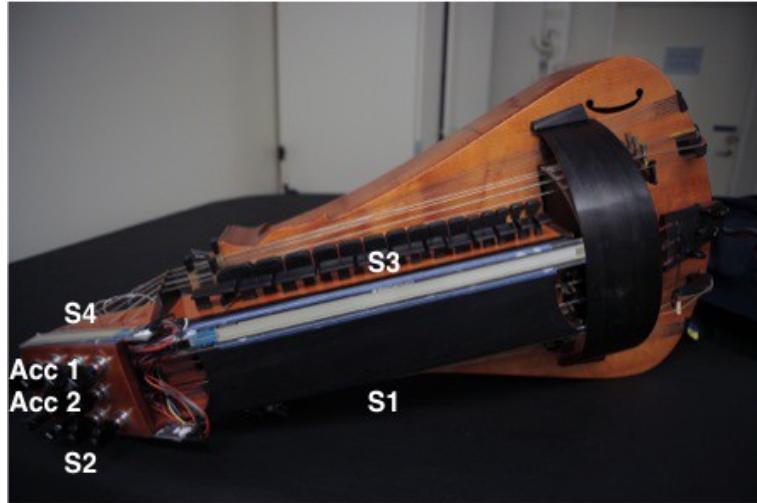

The acoustic hurdy gurdy is composed of:

- 3 chanterelles (CHT 1, CHT 2, CHT 3)
- 3 trumpettes (TRP 1, TRP 2, TRP 3), with a system to change their pitch as indicated in the figure below
- 2 bordones (BRD 1, BRD 2), with a system to change their pitch as indicated in the figure below
- 2 sets of 6 sympathetic strings (SYMP 1, SYMP 2)

The embedded technology consists of:

- 6 Integrated microphones: 1 for the chanterelles; 1 for the trumpettes; 1 for the bordones; 2 for the 2 sets of sympathetic strings; 1 external small omnidirectional microphone
- 4 pairs of two sensors: a ribbon sensor strip placed on top of a pressure sensor strip. They are indicated in the score as S1, S2, S3 and S4 and are placed as illustrated in the figure below.
- 2 accelerometers for front-back and up-down movements tracking. They are indicated in the score as Acc1 and Acc2 and are placed as illustrated in the figure below.

Chamber Ensemble

Flute, Bass Flute

Oboe

Clarinet

Saxophone (soprano, tenor)

Bassoon

French Horn

Trombone

Percussions: Bass Drum, Triangle, Tam Tam (small), 2 Tom-toms, Snare Drum (always con corde), Glockenspiel, Crotale, and Tubular Bells

Piano

Violin

Viola

Violoncello

Double Bass (5 strings, with a low C string)

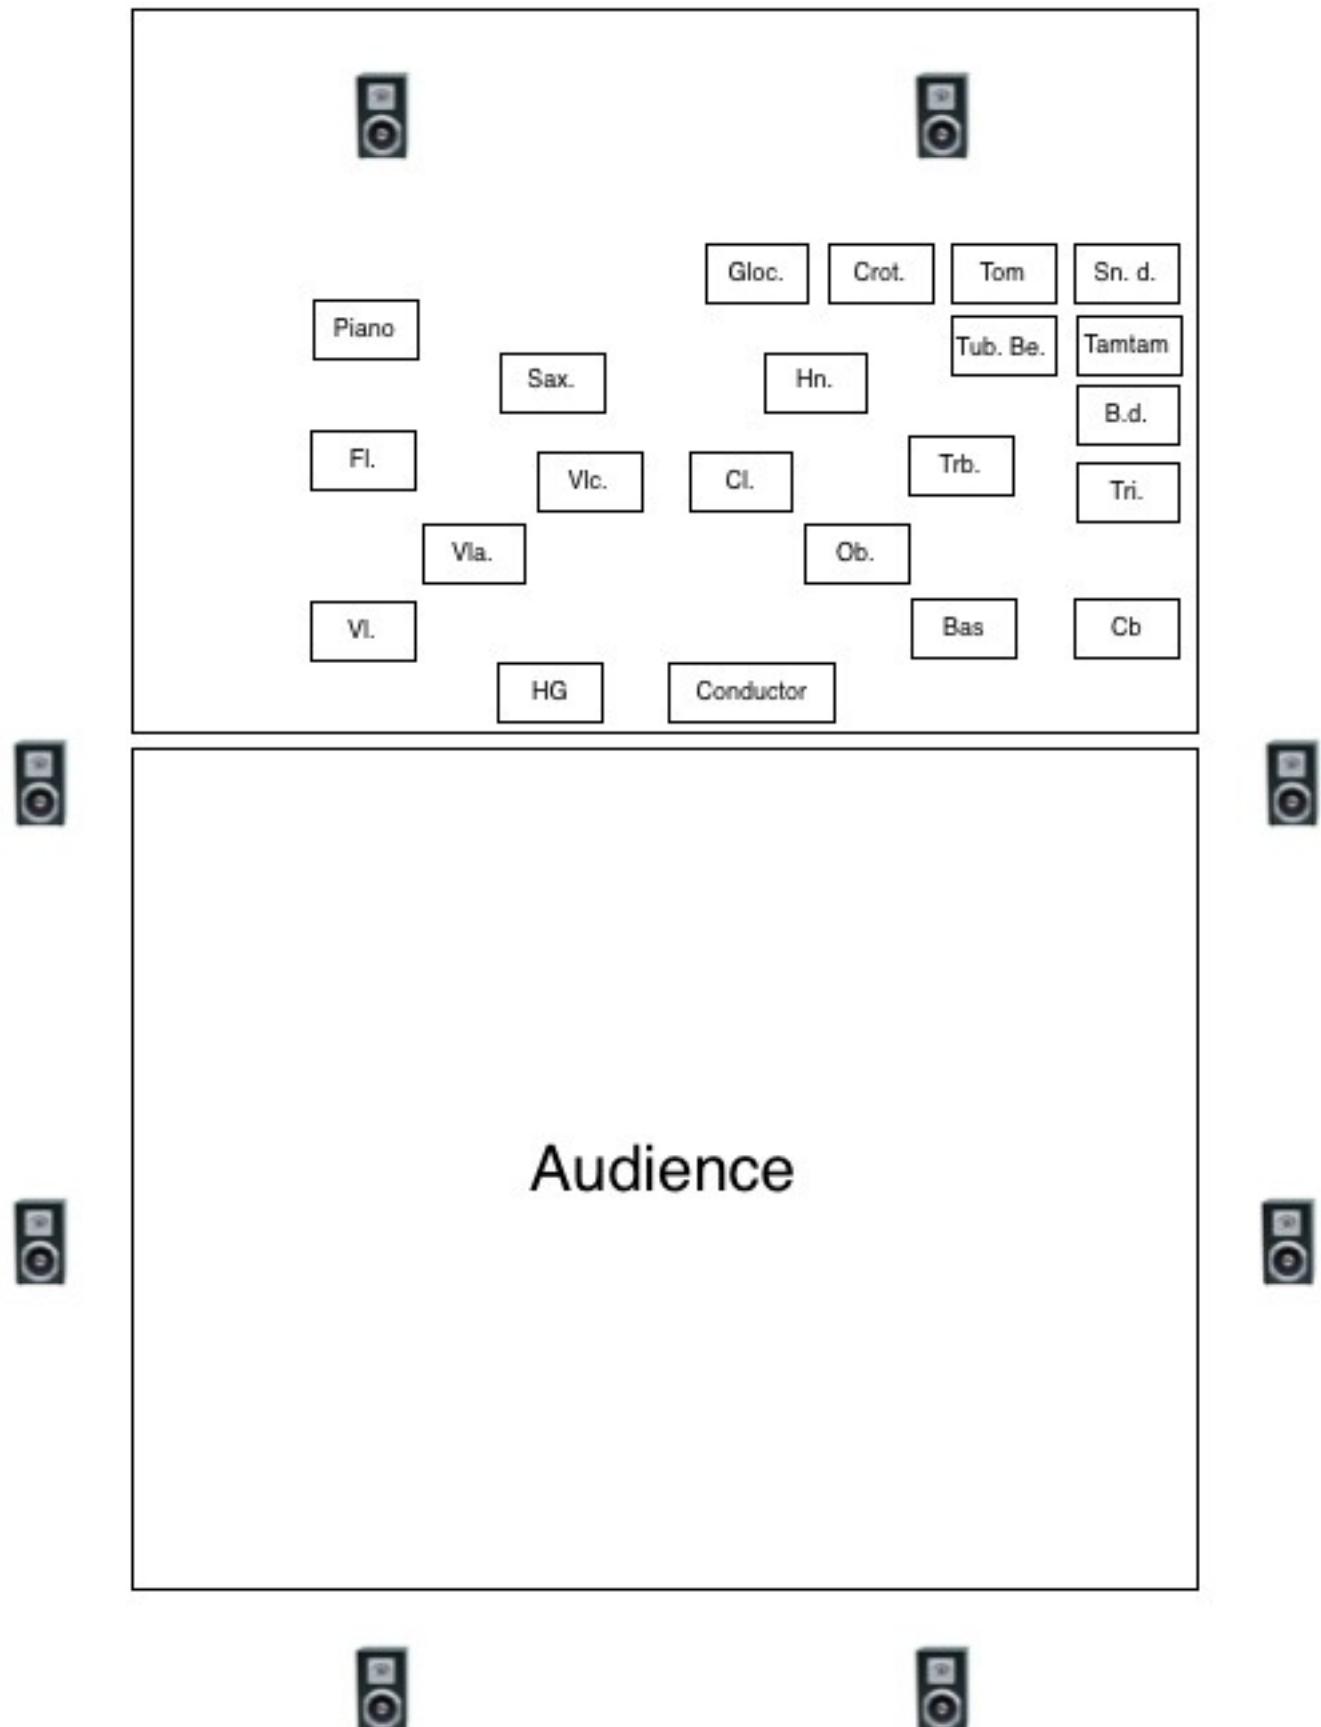

Live Electronics

Max/MSP patches (for the hyper-hurdy-gurdy only, not for the chamber ensemble)

Equipment

- Computer running the Max/MSP software
- MIDI footpedal controller, connected to the computer
- Soundcard with at least 5 input channels and 8 output channels
- 16 microphones to amplify each instrument of the chamber ensemble (2 microphones for the piano, 1 microphone for the pair Glockenspiel-Crotale, and 2 microphones for all the other percussion)
- 8 identical loudspeakers
- Mixer with at least 24 input channels

W.N.

Add irregular patterns of whispered noises without producing any defined pitch. Slow and free rhythm. Randomly variates the dynamics between p and mf. The dotted line indicates the duration of the effect.

Play and stop the note randomly according to the indicated instructions about note density and dynamics. When more than one note is indicated then randomly alternate between the notes. In presence of a dot, play all notes in staccato.

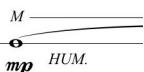

There are three levels of density: Low (L): between 1 and 2 notes per bar; Medium (M): between 4 and 6 notes per bar; High (H): between 8 and 10 notes per bar. Choose a random duration for each note, but in each bar the amount of sound must be higher, or at least equal, than the amount of silence. The duration of the effect is indicated by the straight line. Arrowed lines indicate a transformation between the indicated densities. It is not mandatory to start the note when the bar starts, or when to finish it when the bar ends.

Improvisate a melody with notes randomly chosen among those indicated (trying to use more than one octave when possible). Follow the instructions about note density and dynamics. As before, there are the same three levels of density L, M, H. It is not mandatory to start the note when the bar starts.

Humming on the C note (with closed mouth). Pick the best octave for your voice. Follow the instructions about note density and dynamics. As before, there are the same three levels of density L, M, H. It is not mandatory to start the note when the bar starts.

Hyper-hurdy-gurdy

S1, S2, S3, S4

Use the four pairs of sensors

Acc1, Acc2

Use the two accelerometers. Acc1 tracks front-back movements, Acc2 tracks up-down movements

P1.1, P1.2, etc.

Press pedal 1.1, 1.2, etc.

on A

Perform the indicated gestures on the central part of the superior body side of the instrument.

on B

Perform the indicated gestures on the right part of the superior body side of the instrument (near the crank).

Strings

EX.

Single blowing sound produced by exhaling into the “f hole” of the instrument, without producing any defined pitch. Randomly chose the frequency of each sound.[For violin and viola only]

Play with the bow (col legno tratto) near the saddle of the IV string and stop the sound production by putting the left hand on all the strings in order to produce noise. Change the position of the left hand up and down the fingerboard with a slow and free rhythm. The dotted line indicates the duration of the effect. Add the III string when indicated.

Hit the strings I and II behind the bridge col legno battuto with random patterns. Alternate randomly the two strings.

Play the indicated rhythmical pattern with pizzicato notes played sul ponticello, randomly chosen among the following pitches: C, D, E, G.

Brass and Woodwinds

EX.

Single blowing sound produced by exhaling into the instrument, without producing any defined pitch.

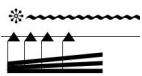

For the horn: remove the mouthpiece, place it on the horn's tube upside-down and blow into the back hole.

I.N. + E.X. —

Blowing sounds produced by inhaling and exhaling into the instrument, without producing any defined pitch. Slow and free rhythm. Randomly chose the frequency of each sound. Randomly varies the dynamics between p and mf. The dotted line indicates the duration of the effect. Add Flatterzunge on the exhaled sound when indicated.

Notes with triangular head indicate tongue ram (for flute and trombone) and slap tongue (for clarinet and saxophone).

Play the indicated rhythmical pattern with notes played with tongue ram (for flute and trombone) and slap tongue (for clarinet and saxophone), randomly chosen among the following pitches: C, D, E, G.

Notes with rhomboidal head indicate air sounds: mix breath with pitch.

On strings, glissando: start from the lowest strings and cover more or less one octave. Use both nails and fingertips simultaneously. Keep the pedal down.

On strings, glissando: start from one of the highest strings and cover more or less one octave. Use the nails. The pedal is not necessary.

On strings, hit the 5/6 lowest strings with the palm of the hand

Press without playing. The dotted line indicates the duration of the effect.

In this piece there is no prescript on the time signature.
 Each bar corresponds to a gesture of the conductor.
 The time gap between each gesture is indicated each time in the score.

The musical score consists of 18 staves, each representing an instrument or group of instruments. The instruments listed on the left are Tm., Hg., B.Fl., Ob., B♭ Cl., T. Sx., Bsn., Hn., Tbn., Perc., Pno., Vln., Vla., Vc., and D.B. The score is divided into measures by vertical bar lines. In the first measure, the B.Fl., Ob., B♭ Cl., T. Sx., and Bsn. staves show 'Pattern of noises (using the keys)' with dynamics p, mf, and p. The Perc. staff shows a sustained note with a fermata. The second measure shows similar patterns for the same instruments, with the addition of Hn. and Tbn. staves. The third measure continues these patterns, with the addition of Vln. and Vla. staves. The fourth measure introduces Vc. and D.B. staves, showing 'Pattern of noises (tapping on the soundboard)' with dynamics p, mf, and p. The fifth measure concludes with sustained notes for the remaining instruments, with dynamics L, p m.s.p., and W.N. The score uses standard musical notation with stems, beams, and rests, along with specific noise patterns indicated by dots and lines.

This musical score page contains ten staves of music for orchestra and piano, spanning measures 117 through 120. The instrumentation includes: Horn (H.g.), Trombone (Tbn.), Bassoon (Bsn.), Oboe (Ob.), Clarinet (B♭ Cl.), Flute (Fl.), Bassoon (Bsn.), Trombone (Tbn.), Percussion (Perc.), Piano (Pno.), Violin (Vln.), Viola (Vla.), Cello (Vc.), and Double Bass (D.B.). The key signature varies by staff, and the time signature is primarily common time (4/4). Measure 117 begins with sustained notes on the first two staves. Measures 118-119 feature complex sixteenth-note patterns on the woodwind staves, with dynamic markings such as f, p, ff, and p>f. Measures 120 conclude with sustained notes on the first two staves.

Measure 117: H.g., Tbn., Bsn., Fl., Ob., B♭ Cl., S. Sx., Hn., Tbn., Perc.

Measure 118: H.g., Tbn., Bsn., Fl., Ob., B♭ Cl., S. Sx., Hn., Tbn., Perc.

Measure 119: H.g., Tbn., Bsn., Fl., Ob., B♭ Cl., S. Sx., Hn., Tbn., Perc.

Measure 120: H.g., Tbn., Bsn., Fl., Ob., B♭ Cl., S. Sx., Hn., Tbn., Perc.
